A very small thank-you for the excellent care given me by you and your staff.

Never was I treated as the "Medicare Charity Case" I really was. While I hope I never need another mastectomy, if I should, I'll be on your doorstep again. Also, I will certainly recommend you to anyone who asks me about implants.

You may wonder why I chose a book which has nothing to do with medicine. It does have a lot to do with politics and now that you've virtually been forced into the political arena, I thought you might find it enlightening - and scary.

One other thing - we had a dinner party this past week and one couple asked if they could bring a couple they had just met.

Well, they turned out to be the young people who sailed from Cape Town and rescued the Cuban floating on an inner tube. Very interesting folks - she is a general practitioner, he an antique dealer - married two years.

Plan to return via the Med in 2/3 years. Told them about you & they wished they had time to meet you - perhaps en route back.

Again, my sincere thanks to you.

Sincerely,
Barbara
